

COPENHAGEN CAPACITY

Denmark A perfect Smart City laboratory

Easy access to data, ambitious national climate targets and world leading test and demo facilities makes Copenhagen an ideal place to develop Smart City solutions.

A preferred test bed

Denmark provides an outstanding environment for testing digital solutions and user-driven innovations, owing to advanced public digitalisation, a longstanding tradition of public-private partnerships, world leading test centres and living labs, and IT-savvy population open to testing new technologies.

- Source: OECD, World Bank

22%

Denmark is hosting 22% of all European R&D projects within intelligent energy grids.

- Source: Copenhagen Cleantech Cluster, Green and smart buildings in Denmark.

Billions are being invested in green technology

The Danish government has set the target to become independent of fossil fuels by 2050.

- Public investment in climate adaptation technology and infrastructure is expected to reach EUR 300-500 million annually.

- Source: RAMBØLL for KL

Focus on Intelligent Traffic System solutions

Over the next five years, the City of Copenhagen will develop Intelligent Traffic Systems and solutions such as:

- Green wave traffic control.
- Optimised route planning based on real-time traffic information.
- Free parking space detection.

- Source: Copenhagen City Council

Copenhagen aims to be the world's first carbon neutral city by 2025

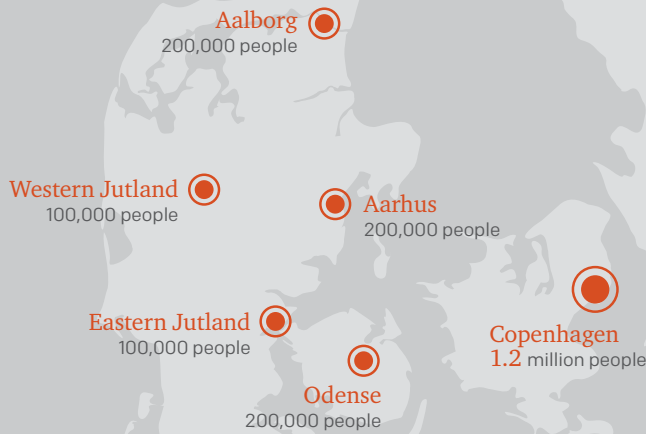

An initiative of the European Commission

5.6 million people
 $170 billion in public spending
 $330 billion in GDP
 43,000 square kilometers
 $58,930 GDP per capita

World leading companies choose Denmark for Smart City projects

Cisco

is testing and developing tomorrow's digital infrastructure, the Internet of Everything, in Copenhagen.

E.ON

has acquired 770 charging stations for electric cars as part of a strategic focus on green transport in Denmark.

Hitachi

has located its first Big Data research laboratory in mainland Europe in Copenhagen.

COPENHAGEN CAPACITY

Most business friendly climate in Europe

What the world say about Copenhagen and Denmark

- Europe's best country for doing business
- World bank 2014
- Copenhagen – The Green Capital of Europe 2014
- EU Commission 2014
- The Copenhagen Region is among the top five regional innovation leaders in Europe
- European Commission Regional Innovation Scoreboard 2014
- In 2016, company tax will be only 22% - combined with a unique double taxation rule of 0%
- Growth Plan DK 2013

Copenhagen Capacity and Invest in Denmark – your service providers free of charge

Copenhagen Capacity and Invest in Denmark offer free business consulting services to foreign-owned companies contemplating expanding business activities to or in Denmark, in full confidentiality. We will assist you with services such as:

- Market information, industry reports and benchmark analyses.
- Access to an extensive network of contacts within businesses, authorities and academia.
- Unbiased cost calculation and location tools.
- Knowledge sharing and practical assistance during the entire investment and location process.

Copenhagen Capacity · Nørregade 7B · DK-1165 Copenhagen K t +45 33 22 02 22 · w www.copcap.com · info@copcap.com